March 31- April 1, 2016

BSides Austin is a volunteer-run information security unconference. Our programming focuses on high-quality content, and our smaller, more intimate networking atmosphere fosters strong audience participation and overall group interaction.

Sponsorship

BSides Austin fosters communication and collaboration while elevating the level of typical conference conversations. Sponsors for BSides Austin have direct access to those conversations. In addition to just setting up sponsor tables and handing out swag, we hope you will also be an active participant in our conference. We need your money to make this event happen; that's no secret! But we also want our sponsors to come and be a part of the conference—sharing ideas, meeting people and interacting with the local infosec community. We understand that every organization considering sponsorship will have different goals and priorities, which is why we offer various levels of participation. We have specifically designed options for any sized organization to participate in and support this event. Please contact us if interested.
