Malformity Labs Partner Addition: Hyas Inc.

Posted on February 26, 2015 (http://www.malformitylabs.com/malformity-labs-partner-addition-hyas-inc/)

We are excited to officially announce our next Malformity Labs partner today, Hyas Inc.! Hyas specializes in providing information about domains (to include whois data), IP addresses, and malware callback information. Their current platform, Comox, provides users a web based interface to query this data, gain access to provided data feeds, and set up whois[···] (http://www.malformitylabs.com/malformity-labs-partner-addition-hyas-inc/)

Product Demo: ThreatGRID

Posted on September 22, 2014 (http://www.malformitylabs.com/product-demo-threatgrid/)

We have received a few requests for a video demo of our ThreatGRID Transform Set over the past couple of weeks so we put one together over the weekend. The seed data is sourced from the recent US-CERT alert about the BackOff family of malware (specifically, two of the mutexes). You can see that we[⋯] (http://www.malformitylabs.com/product-demo-threatgrid/)

Malformity Labs Partner Addition: DomainTools

Posted on July 2, 2014 (http://www.malformitylabs.com/malformity-labs-partner-addition-domaintools/)

Today, DomainTools announced their Maltego integration through our partnership and we are very excited about the integration. We feel as though this is definitely a positive addition to the portfolio of partners that will enable researchers and analysts to cut down analysis time, as well as uncover additional links of interest. We've put together the[⋯] (http://www.malformitylabs.com/malformity-labs-partner-addition-domaintools/)

Chaining Data Sources for Organizational Defense

Posted on February 16, 2014 (http://www.malformitylabs.com/chaining-data-sources-for-organizational-defense/)

As information security analysts, we face a constant barrage of new and evolving threats within our organizations. It is our job to do everything we can to protect those organizations as effectively and efficiently as possible. Additionally, every organization is going to have a different operational structure, tempo, and capability. The example that follows may[···] (http://www.malformitylabs.com/chaining-data-sources-for-organizational-defense/)
